

Holli Schlukebir

2020 Summer Intern

What is your education & career background/goals?

I graduated from Shelby High School in 2017 – after being a lifelong Tiger. I am currently a rising senior at the University of Michigan and will graduate in the spring of 2021. I am double majoring in English and Sociology and minoring in Business. Previously, I have worked on sociological research projects; one examined variation within collegiate sexual misconduct policies and the other reviewed Congressional testimony around universal childcare. After graduating this spring, I plan to continue my education and work towards a career either in non-profit work or law.

What do you do for the Foundation?

I am a summer intern and assist Foundation staff with a variety of projects. I get to see a lot of different sides of the organization, whether I am sorting/distributing books for the early literacy program Read early. Read often., developing communications, or event planning. My biggest project this summer will be coordinating our National Standards accreditation plan.

Why do you work at the Foundation?

Oceana County has always been my home. Its residents make it an exceptional place to live and a community to be a part of. Learning about non-profit work within my hometown is a great learning experience and opportunity to help make an impact in a personal way.

What is something that people might not know about you?

I am an avid reader! I enjoy reading memoirs, short fiction stories, and books about social science. They are interesting because they help provide me a different view of the world. It is an amazing experience to learn about a new slice of the society; you can travel wherever and whenever you want all from the comfort of your home.
